

MARRIAGE OF FORMER

TOMBSTONE GIRL

Yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Blackburn, in this city, Mr. Glen Allen Bouchee and Miss Oda Bell Davis, both of Bisbee, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. C. W. S. Stark, of the local Congregational church.

Thus ends a pretty romance which began several months before Mr. Bouchee answered the call of his country, and his absence of nearly two years only tended to make the heart grow fonder.

Only the family and a few intimate friends were present when the wedding ceremony was performed, the couple leaving immediately for Bisbee where a wedding supper awaited them, with about fifty friends present. They will make their home in Bisbee.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davis, former residents of Tombstone, and Mrs. Bouchee was reared and schooled in this city, moving to Bisbee a few years ago with her parents. She has many friends in this city among her old school mates, to all of whom she has endeared herself by her friendliness.

The groom is well known young man of Bisbee, where he has resided for the past several years. Previous to entering the service of Uncle Sam, he drove the Bisbee-Tombstone auto stage. He has many friends in Tombstone as well as in Bisbee.

Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known here and their many friends will join in wishing them a long and happy life of wedded bliss.

FIND STILL

IN TEXAS CANYON

Deputy Sheriffs Hal Smith, of Pearce, and Jess Moore, of Wilcox, today brought two men named Marlow and Seaburn, to the county jail, charged with operating an illicit still on the ranch of Seaburn in Texas Canyon.

About a gallon of peach brandy was seized by the officers and will be used as evidence against the two men. Marlow is said to be representative of the Standard Oil company in Wilcox, and denies any connection with the manufacture of the contraband liquor.

The arresting officers stated today that they found evidences that led them to believe that the still had been in operation for some time. It was a small affair but exceptionally well made.

Texas Canyon grows a very fine quality of peaches and the alleged operators of the still have unconsciously revealed another method to avoid the spoilage of this fruit.

They will probably be released on bond pending hearing in the Superior Court.

WIFE SUES ARIZONA

MAJOR FOR DIVORCE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 22.—Maj. George N. Beakley, U. S. Army, of Phoenix, Ariz., attached to the judge advocate general's office, was yesterday sued for a limited divorce and alimony by his wife, Mrs. Mary Beakley, who charges cruelty, desertion and failure to provide. They were married October 17, 1918, at Phoenix and have no children.

About two weeks after their marriage they removed to Washington.

On August 7 he is alleged to have deserted her.

Although he is said to be receiving a salary of $350 a month, Mrs. Beakley accuses her husband of failure to provide.

LOUGHREY AND CHAMBERS DRAW

Frank Loughrey, of Bisbee and Russell Chambers, of Douglas, fought ten terrific rounds at Warren park last night to a draw. According to many Tombstone fans who motored over to attend the affair, they fought straight Marquis of Queensberry rules, which had the approval of the crowd. The mill is described as being a first class fight, and that the referee's decision met with the approval of the audience as the men were evenly matched and divided the honors to a point. Every second was one of real fighting. The preliminaries were not quite up to standard, according to several of the foremost of local enthusiasts.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

State of Arizona
PROCLAMATION

Already the children of our State have in many communities done notable work in advancing the efforts of the American Red Cross through their activities in the Junior Auxiliaries of this organization, of whose accomplishments America is justly proud.

A recent report shows that 419 Junior auxiliaries were organized in Arizona. Of these results were reported by only 45 of the organization, this being a little more than 10%. There was a school fund of $4798.53, of which $3085.30 has been spent. Boys and girls of Arizona knitted and sewed 15,402 articles and 50 articles were contributed by manual training departments.

The work done in Arizona helped swell the results secured for the section including Colorado, Nevada and Arizona. In these three States there were 6582 auxiliaries. According to the reports from 2815 auxiliaries, in the period from Nov. 1, 1917 to February 28, 1919, the Juniors sewed and knitted a total of 599,000 articles and made 11,334 articles for the Red Cross in manual training departments.

The school fund in auxiliaries reporting showed a total of $223,592.11 of which $112,913.28 was spent.

And now, with the war happily over, there is before us the great work of rehabilitation. In this work the Red Cross will play a leading part.

Home service work will require time and money. It is proposed to continue the classes in elementary hygiene, first aid, and dietetics, and efforts will also be made to secure public health nurses wherever possible.

Much thought has been given to extending the Home Service to others than the families of soldiers and sailors. At the same time conditions in Europe are becoming more appalling, and more and more the responsibilities resting on the American Red Cross there are increasing. To meet these responsibilities the national organization is calling in every available dollar contributed for war work.

To provide funds for the enormous relief work in America, as well as to insure the completion of the various war activities, a drive for the Red Cross funds will be held in November in all probability these funds will be divided as heretofore, 75 per cent going to the national fund and 25 per cent retained by the local chapter to supply funds for the programs of the various communities.

No more important part of the work presents itself than the necessity of securing the organized cooperation of the boys and girls of Arizona. This is true, not only for the tangible results they will help secure but also for the benefit to them as citizens in embryo, that will accrue because of their increased realization of the obligations for general service carried by the recognition of the high estate of a citizen of our American Republic.

THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Campbell, Governor of Arizona appeal to the children of the State to enroll as members of the Junior Red Cross. Every child in every school, public, private, or parochial, should feel a personal interest and responsibility in this great work, guided by their leaders in citizenship, the teachers.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Arizona to be affixed.

Done at Phoenix, the Capital, the 25th day of September, 1919.

THOMAS E. CAMPBELL,

Governor.

Attest:
MITT SIMMS, Secretary of State.

ONE WORD IN BILL MAY

RESULT IN MANY NEW

ARMORIES FOR STATE

PHOENIX, Sept. 22.—All because the word "available" and not "expended" was used in drawing up the military fund appropriation bill in the 1917 legislature, attorney General Jones believes that the state is going to blossom forth with a number of new armories for the use of the re-organized national guard.

In wording the bill which provides for $50,000 to be spent in erecting new armories on ground owned by the state it was made to read that the money should be expended during the years ending June 30, 1918 and June 30, 1919. This money, due to the strain on the state government during the war, was never expended.

Adjutant General Ingalls is anxious to start construction work as soon as possible, and through the governor asked for an opinion as to the availability of the money. Although Mr. Jones has not written an opinion, he stated yesterday that he was positive as long as the money had not been expended, it was still available.

WILL GUARD AGAINST

DEER KILLING BEFORE

SEASON DULY OPENS

PHOENIX, Sept. 22.—The state game warden, Joe V. Prochaska, does not propose to allow anyone to kill deer, even a few hours before the season opens, if the stationing of numerous deputies in the roads leading toward Phoenix can prevent it.

Prochaska stated yesterday that he fears that some nimrods, anxious to be the first to arrive with a deer and thereby annex the prizes offered by sporting goods houses, might get enthusiastic and kill a few hours too soon. Hence the precautions.

The wardens will examine all deer being brought to the city, and being experts, will be able to accurately judge whether they have been killed a few or a number of hours.

Things will be made extremely unpleasant, says Prochaska, for anyone found with a deer in his possession that bears evidence of having been killed before midnight of Sept. 30.

VETERAN ARMY SERGEANT

GOES ON RETIRED LIST;

FIRST ENLISTED IN '34

FORT HUACHUCA, Sept. 22.—Sergeant George Harris, headquarters troop, 10th Cavalry, upon his own application has been placed upon the retired list. Sergeant Harris enlisted December 2, 1894. He served five years in troop I, 10th Cavalry and re-enlisted for troop K, serving five years there. At the end of ten years' service he returned to civil life, there remaining approximately ten years. During this time he spent three years as a sailor for an English commercial transportation company and one year in Cape Town, Africa. While in Africa the natives engaged in the Boer war. He was in South Africa when war was declared on Spain by the United States, and on account of hostile seas was unable to get transportation back to his native country. This has ever been the most regrettable incident in all his military career.

In January, 1902, he returned to the colors, and determined to spend the remainder of his life as a soldier and patriot. He served three years in the Philippine Islands, saw active service in four of the Indian insurrections in the Rocky Mountain states and has always been regarded as a brave and gallant soldier.

Sergeant Harris is known throughout his regiment as "Sergeant Spit Fire," a name to which there is an interesting story attached. One day during the Indian insurrection, having been selected by his commander to take a small detachment of men and locate the position of the enemy, he found himself almost trapped by overwhelming forces of the enemy. He opened a sharp and effective fire forcing his way back to safety without the loss of a man. His commander while commending him requested that he explain his plan of escape. He said: "When I found that I was trapped, I spit sharp and rapid volleys of wild fire with such a force that the enemy became excited and could not endure."

Throughout his services he has been a clean and thorough horseman.

SENATOR REED MAY COME

HERE TO FIGHT LEAGUE

PHOENIX, Sept. 22.—Efforts are being made to bring Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, Missouri, to Arizona for a number of speeches against the League of Nations covenant, and it is probable, from arrangements being made, that he will proceed here next week, following his tour of Oklahoma.

A telegram received here today from from Lee Merriweather, a prominent Democrat of St. Louis, stated that Reed could come next week and the work of organizing a non-partisan committee to arrange a meeting was immediately called.

$53,000 WORTH OF FOOD-

STUFFS TAKEN OVER

TUCSON, Sept. 22.—Eight thousand six hundred cases of food stuffs were seized in the warehouses of Swift & Company at Bowie and Douglas yesterday by order of Assistant United States Attorney McFall, Deputy United States Marshal Treahy taking charge of the warehouse contents at Bowie and Deputy United States Marshal Willmouth of the warehouse at Douglas.

Evidence collected by special agents of the department of justice at Tucson, El Paso and Douglas and filed with Mr. McFall showed the goods had been in storage a year. Great stores of canned salmon were in seizure. Salmon is now $9 a case on the coast and little of it can be had. More than 5000 cans of salmon are kept out of the market for more than a year, it is said.

The seizure at Bowie consisted of 2900 cases of salmon, 900 cases of corn and 2000 cases of tomatoes. The seizure at Douglas consisted of 2700 cases of salmon.

Charging hoarding of foodstuff, Assistant District Attorney McFall will ask the goods be condemned and disposed of as the court sees fit.

"This is the first seizure," said Mr. McFall, "others will follow in Arizona, for we have information of other hoarding in the state. In looking these stores I have acted under the instruction of United States District Attorney Flynn and of the Attorney General of the United States, the latter authorization coming last night. The total number of cans in the seizure is 344,582 and the total value about $53,000 at the present market price."

"The record shows that out of the total cases of 250 cases of salmon received by Swift & Co. at Douglas a year ago in November, five cases were moved in nine months."

The libel filed by Mr. McFall for District Attorney Flynn in Douglas, is directed against all persons lawfully intervening for their interest therein, in a cause of the hoarding of the salmon within the meaning and in violation of Section 6 and 7 of the Act of Congress entitled, "An act to provide further for the national security and defense by encouraging the production, conserving the supply and controlling the distribution of food products and fuel," approved August 10, 1917.

It is charged that the salmon had been in the possession and storage at or near the City of Douglas, in Arizona by a manufacturer, wholesaler and dealer, Swift & Co., a corporation doing business in Arizona, or some other manufacturer, wholesaler of dealer or by some person for it or him; that the salmon was received and stored at Douglas by the company and at the time so received was, and is now, a quantity in excess of the reasonable requirements of its business for use or sale for a reasonable time at Douglas, and not required to furnish canned salmon seasonably throughout a period of scant or no production and that the goods are held there for the purpose of unreasonably increasing the price.
